Insurance Institute of India, Mumbai
Comprehensive Port Package Policies
Program ID: CPG18
(From: 06th to 07th October, 2020)

Relevance of the Program:-

Oceans and rivers are the most eco-friendly means of transport. Just as ships and their cargos need to be covered by insurance so do the entry and exit points for these ships: Ports and Terminals. Not only is there a huge amount of highly specialised equipment and machinery on the quayside, there is also the risk attached to the ships coming into or leaving the berth, along with a number of employee liabilities to consider. Port authorities and terminal operators face a combination of operational, commercial and environmental risks.

Some of the larger terminal groups with locations all over the world have property portfolio values which run into billions of dollars. As no two operators will face the same range of risks, the cover must be tailored to individual situations.

With the emphasis on Sagar Mala Projects and the beginning of usage of river waterways as means of goods transport, a large number of small ports are coming up in India, leading to a growth in demand for Port Package Policies.

The College of Insurance in this two day workshop aims to sensitise the stakeholders about various risks being faced by large and small ports, ways to handle them, design a suitable policy for them and learn how to underwrite those risks.

Program Objective:-

- To understand the operational, commercial and environmental risks faced at Port by various stakeholders
- To gain an insight into various Additional Covers /Wordings required for adequate coverage
- To know which are the most appropriate extensions and clauses required
- How to design a tailor made policy
- How to handle the multiple claims that arise on a port under a single policy

Participant Profile:-
