

Virtual Training Session on Basics of Health Insurance - Preventive Care (CVT-HI-PI) – 6th January, 2021

Health Insurance is one of the most challenging areas of insurance in the Indian market during the last 20 years. With many people to be covered and many claims to be paid, insurers are struggling to keep the portfolio sustainable and also to increase the spread. While the claims ratio have been hovering around 100% for many insurers, more and more health insurers are realizing the importance of using loss prevention and loss minimization techniques in health insurance. Insurers are rewarding those insured who take care of themselves and making those who do not, to pay a higher price. Either way, saving a life, averting a sickness and making a medical condition less complicated are matters that make the health insurance business more viable for insurers and improve the health of the society.

College of Insurance has designed this programme for serious minded insurance professionals who wish to understand the practical concerns of loss prevention and loss minimization and how insurers are actually practicing these out on the field.
