

Virtual Training Session on Preparing for the Second Innings (CVT – PSI) - 03rd – 5th September 2020

Large organizations have always recognized the value of providing their retirees with pre-retirement training from professional trainers. Planning for time management, health, wealth and wellness is essential for people whose daily routine undergoes radical change on retirement after putting in a long service in organizations. Due to Covid 19, the world has been experiencing unprecedented things. Offices are unoccupied, transportation and conveyance facilities are limited and businesses are operating from remote places. Offices have seen people retiring while at home! A totally unexpected phenomenon. Some staff members and officers from insurance industry have retired from home during the lock down period. There would be some to retire in next 3 months, probably, from home itself.
